PERMANENT MAKEUP | AESTHETICS | TRAINING

Lucy trained in permanent make up in 2014 and quickly established a thriving PMU business which regularly sees her booked up months in advance.

Since originally training, Lucy has gone on to train with some of the industry greats, constantly perfecting her skills and developing her individual style, eventually developing and copywriting her own eyeliner technique.. by far her favourite treatment!

Lucy's hard work and passion for all things PMU has resulted in her receiving multiple awards for her PMU work.

Lucy works regularly with leading breast surgeons providing breast cancer survivors areola tattooing post mastectomy and achieved Bupa accreditation in 2019.

It was a natural progression for Lucy to move in to teaching she is passionate about providing high quality training and a supportive environment for her students.

Lucy, alongside her colleague and fellow PMU technician Sarah Larvin have recently created the PMU academy Essex offering both beginners training and masterclasses. Having taught individually for several years they have now combined to provide students with double the support and double the passion!

Lucy currently works and teaches from her newly refurbished clinic in a busy town high street in Essex offering everything from PMU to aesthetics, medical tattooing to beauty therapy and training.
